Dear students, guardians, and educators,

On August 26th, 2024, the new school year begins in Hesse. We warmly welcome you to the 2024/25 school year in our school community!

Every year, several hundred young and older individuals begin their vocational education and learning journey with us or take the next steps on this path, aiming for school and vocational qualifications. In doing so, they immerse themselves in a new school community, with new fellow learners and teachers. They encounter new subjects and vocational focuses with a strong practical orientation and, in our full-time school programs, they undertake internships that are longer and more closely connected to the school than what they might have experienced before.

We are happy to support and accompany you on this educational journey. To help you navigate all topics and points of contact at your new school, many staff members at WHS have collaboratively created a guide that is updated annually. For environmental reasons, you will receive only a few documents in printed form – all other documents can be found online using the QR code provided in these materials.

In addition to information that is immediately relevant to you, the guide contains many details that may become important later or in specific (life) situations, such as information about our excellent school counseling network, which can help with questions regarding academic, vocational, or personal issues. Please consult the guide or the school homepage first if any questions arise – in most cases, your initial questions will be answered this way.

You will receive current announcements and interesting insights into our school throughout the school year via the WHS homepage, our Instagram channel @whs4u, Facebook, and your class teachers.

I wish you a good start at and with Werner-Heisenberg-Schule, a successful and healthy time, and joy in all that you will learn and experience.

Your principal
